

IAEG recently hosted a WG11 Leadership Summit focused on Supply Chain ESG Stewardship & Voluntary Assessment Standard. During this event, we heard the perspectives of key executives and leadership.

The following were the keys themes:

1

Our ability to have an impact within our supply chains and provide value to our stakeholders will be the greatest with a collaborative industry approach.

2

Our stakeholders, such as our customers, employees, and investors, are looking for us to provide greater transparency into our supply chains and the data they need to make informed decisions. This is our opportunity to bring our disclosures to the next level with information that is tailored to, and created by, our industry.

3

A voluntary industry approach to supplier sustainability assessment creates efficiencies for all value chain actors, affords rapid progress and helps us identify topics to drive environmental/social stewardship.

4

By extending ESG stewardship as an industry, we recognize that pairing a learning forum along with the voluntary assessment multiplies the impact we can have and accelerates our supply chains ability to advance along their own ESG journey.

Working on sustainability is not for a competitive advantage, it is our common responsibility towards protecting the environment. It creates value.

- Juergen Westermeier

Chief Procurement Officer
Airbus

We have an opportunity in front of us to take the stewardship and responsibility of our supply chains to the next level... this is what our stakeholders are looking for us to do.

- Jill Graftenreed

Sustainability Governance,
Dir. Boeing

We have a choice. We have a choice to act independently and have an impact, or we have a choice to work as an industry and have an even bigger impact. It's an easy choice.

- Kristopher Pinnow

Supply Chain
VP Collins Aerospace

Implementing a way to access and measure ESG is critical, but if we stop there we have lost sight of our responsibility to our supply chain. The knowledge and expertise of each our companies should be recognized as an accelerator

Industry Leaders Voice Their Values

"A sustainable supply chain driven by ESG engagements is an exceptional opportunity for value creation and earning the trust of all our stakeholders"

Roque Carmona, Chief Procurement Officer, Thales

"Achieving sustainable aviation is far from impossible.

Today, employees at Pratt & Whitney are solving the challenges and creating the technologies that will introduce a new era of sustainable aviation."

Graham Webb, Chief Sustainability Officer, Pratt & Whitney

"This important programme has the potential to unlock a lot of value and help deliver good ESG stewardship across the sector."

Benn Godfrey, VP Procurement, Rolls Royce

"At Airbus, we pioneer sustainable aerospace for a safe and united world. We are taking the lead in driving a holistic approach towards building a more sustainable ecosystem for our industry, which entails looking at our end to end value chain environmental and social footprint. With a global footprint and a global supply chain, we welcome efforts from IAEG to build a harmonized and standardized approach towards ESG in the industry, which fully supports our sustainability ambition."

Nicolas Chretien, HO Sustainability & Environment at Airbus

"Thales ESG ambitions are to embed ambitious sustainability commitments in all processes and to maximize the sustainability impact of our portfolio of solutions. Both find a perfect application for Aeronautics."

Sophie Le Penne, VP HSE, Thales

"Boeing is committed to advancing global sustainability, and IAEG's efforts will be a cornerstone of our responsible supply chain practices. An industry voluntary approach is key for efficiency and demonstrating ESG maturity to customers, investors and regulators."

William Ampofo, Chair, Boeing Supply Chain Operations Council, and Vice President, Parts & Distribution Services and Supply Chain, Boeing Global Services.

"Sustainability inspires us as corporate citizens and signals our values in all we do to keep the Aerospace supply chain a strong foundation for continued growth and success. The focus of IAEG WG11 will expand upon our strong track record of developing relationships and practices that ensure a more sustainable supply chain."

Chris Stone, Supply Chain Vice President, Lockheed Martin Corporation

"Great potential to accelerate ESG maturity in the aerospace sector"

LeAnn Ridgeway, VP Sustainability, Collins Aerospace
